

New projects

New projects arise from the creation of this energy of oneness.

Your twin flame is the Highest Being itself

Finding your very own twin flame means recognizing and becoming One with the Highest Being.

The so-called illusionary separation from the Highest Being is also perceived as a separation from your very own twin.

Here on earth we coincide with our twin again – this is also a reunification with the Highest Being.

Please note that all of this happens on the level of consciousness. We were never really separated – neither from the Highest Being nor from our twin flame.

Everything we lived so far was an imaginary reality, which means we created duality and thus appeared to be separated.

Now that we know this on a cellular level, we can begin the new life with one another.

Happy ending – new beginning

The space of light, the body of light

The process of the light body is completed when the last cell has been transformed. Being light bodies now, we create the space of light around us.

We start a new life in a new space.

Finding peace of the heart

When the energy of Oneness reaches the innermost part of the heart, peace returns. The deepest core of the heart, the root, has been resonating in alignment since the year one.

The primordial vibration

The primordial vibration rotates to the left. This is where every human, every creature, every planet and every star formation originated from.

Expansion of the primordial vibration

The rise of vibration increases, transforming every cell in the body.

The primal energy illuminates the entire body, even the teeth.

Everything that obstructs this expansion creates ailments.

Wherever they occur, try to consciously co-create the vibration to the left until it flows.

This vibration also illuminates the vastness of the cosmos. This means, that All that Is experiences this new vibration – as long as All that Was from the very beginning is redeemed, healed and transformed into the Highest Light.

A new world

A new world comes into being. We live in the light as beings of light in a visible way. We remain in a human body that transforms into a light body.

We become crystal beings, our bodies become crystalline.

The crystal lattice net

The new crystal lattice net, located within the earth, is now activated.

Activation

Humans living conscious of Oneness are called to go to places where their hearts want to be.

After living there for a while, they will support the activation.

New Consciousness

This way the New Consciousness can flow through and around the earth and allow all humans to chime in.

Two unified hearts in alignment

Two hearts beat in your chest. One is the heart of your twin flame. Once perfectly aligned, they will meet on a visible level.

The former human heart transforms into a Heart of Oneness.

Let it happen – n o w!
